UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

7 || GABRIEL R. REYES,

8 || Plaintiff(s),

No. C 07-1449 PJH

9 | v.

ORDER

10 ROBERT HOREL, et al.,

Defendant(s).

1

13 Before the court is a stipulation and request by the parties for an order resetting the 14 pretrial schedule in this case. It was not accompanied by a proposed order. As the court
15 advised in the case management and pretrial order filed on November 17, 2009, the parties
16 may not modify a pretrial date by stipulation and if the modification sought is an extension
17 of a pretrial deadline, the modification must be sought before the expiration of the deadline.
18 In their stipulation the parties seek to extend not only the dates for pretrial and trial, but 19 dates for disclosure of experts, and the deadlines for both fact and expert discovery, all
20 dates which have passed. Moreover, the parties ignore the court's instruction that
21 dispositive motions are heard 120 days before trial and instead stipulate to a dispositive
22 motions hearing date that is 60days before the proposed new trial date. As such, the court
23 declines to approve the parties's stipulation. If the parties wish to obtain an extension of 24 dates, they shall contact the courtroom clerk of the undersigned and request a case
25 management conference at which scheduling may be addressed.

26 || IT IS SO ORDERED.

27 | Dated: June 29, 2009
